MAIN TITLE

Produced by Ford Motion Picture Laboratories
Released through Fitzpatrick & McElroy
Copyrighted 1921 by Ford Motor Company

SUB TITLES

1. Between the Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico, Jamaica, the Isle of Springs, rears its foliage-covered head. Upon its slopes of mountainous vegetation the native farmer builds his snug little home.
2. Some search in vain for a life of contentment, while others have it at their doors without knowing the meaning of it.
3. Like the 114 rivers that twist and turn their way down the mountainsides into the sea are the numerous paths and roadways leading into Kingston and the market place.
4. For some the way is long and tiresome and they must pause to rest.
5. Others stop for repairs.
6. But ever the streams of food surge on.
7. At the city's edge, the food carriers begin emptying their supplies into the more experienced hands of the market dealers.
8. The Victoria Market at Kingston. Here the food streams' onward flow is suddenly brought to a halt.
9. Vegetable productions are very numerous. Chief among these is the Yam, a name originating on the Golden Coast of Africa, which largely replaces the potato and is cooked in the same manner.
10. The Breadfruit Tree is tall and bears a fruit from 4 to 7 inches in diameter which when cooked tastes very much like bread.
11. A basket booth.
12. The market is a busy, well patronized place.
13. A study in black and white.
14. Outside the market are the vender's belongings awaiting their return.
15. A quiet snooze.
16. Back up in the mountains, -
17. --- the peasant food carrier has returned to his home. On the morrow rare song-birds will awaken and cheer him on another trip of the "Food Stream."
18. (The End)
